

The story of Samuel is our story too. He stands for all of us. We may not be important in the eyes of society but none of us is ever ignored by God. We are always in his mind and forever under his care. God is constantly calling us into a relationship with him in the circumstances of life we find ourselves in. When we were baptized our ears were symbolically opened to hear his call. In the noisy ranting world in which we live, there is a danger of God's voice being drowned out and not heard. That is why it is important to have a quiet and peaceful corner to develop pockets of silence, where we can be alone to listen to the voice of God, calling us and directing us along his pathway. God can only speak to a person who is listening.

What is Life?

One lovely summer's day around noon, there was a deep stillness over all the forest. The birds had tucked their heads under their wings, and everything was at rest. Then a bullfinch popped his head up and asked, "What is life?"

Everyone was struck by this profound question. A rose was just emerging from her bud, and was opening up one shy petal after another, rejoicing in the newly discovered sunlight. 'Life is a Becoming,' she said. The butterfly was less philosophical. He flew blithely from one flower to another, snacking everywhere on the delicious nectar. 'Life is pure pleasure and sunshine,' he announced. Down on the ground, an ant was labouring under the weight of a piece of straw ten times his size. He said, 'Life is nothing but toil and sweat and strain.' There might have been quite an argument about the meaning of life, had not a fine rain begun to fall, and the rain spoke: 'Life consists of tears, nothing but tears.' High above the forest, an eagle swooped, making majestic curves in the sky. 'Life, spoke the eagle, 'is a constant search for happiness, and a string of disappointments.' After the long, dark night, at last the dawn came, rising pink on the eastern skyline. 'Just as I, the dawn, am the start of the new day, so life is the beginning of eternity.'

Retelling of a Swedish legend (Margaret Silf)

The world abounds in 'wisdom stories'. Some of them suggest explanations for who we are and how we came to be who we are. Others offer guidance on how to live, how to relate to each other and how to cope with life's joys and crises. Almost all of them can be engaged with at different levels –from the simple delight of a child at bedtime, to the probing of the adult mind and heart into the deepest mysteries of life. WisdomStories by Margaret Silf

I enjoy stories. Some of my most treasured moments, are my memories of childhood; of sitting by the fire with my grandparents telling me stories about truths and meaning of everyday living. Stories I find have a subtle way of 'breaking open' and bringing meaning to some of life's mysteries.

FROM JEW TO EVANGELICAL TO CATHOLIC NUN

The Life and Ministry of Mother Miriam of the Lamb of God (Rosalind Moss)
Blessed Trinity Church
3220 Bayview Ave., Toronto
Tuesday, January 16, 2018; 7:00-9:00 pm

A video from EWTN Live highlights the story of Rosalind Moss, now Mother Miriam of the Lamb of God O.S.B. Raised as a Conservative Jew in New York, she became a Catholic teacher and evangelist. Sensing a vocation to the religious life, Mother Miriam became the foundress of an order of sisters: “Daughters of Mary, Mother of Israel's Hope.” Her testimony will inspire and convince us of the Jewishness of the Gospel.
