

Feast of Christ the King

The Feast of Christ the King is placed at the end of the church year to make us aware that Christ is the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end of all things. It should awaken an awareness that we are temporary residents of this world and our destination is elsewhere. As we journey on our pilgrim way, there are many voices calling for our attention, competing for our allegiance and luring us down alleyways that would be better avoided. Whatever situations we find ourselves in as Christians and whatever laws we are required to obey, it is important to remember that earthly authority is not the last word. There is a higher law, a more demanding citizenship seeking our allegiance, which calls us to risk all for the sake of all. We know that on judgement day our future will be assured if we have listened to Christ's voice, accepted his values and followed in his footsteps.

“BE ALERT AT ALL TIMES”

(Luke 21: 36)

There is a story entitled, “What is the World Like?” God and a man are walking down the road. The man asks God, “What is the world like?” God replies, “I cannot talk when I am thirsty. If you could get me a drink of cool water, we could discuss what the world is like. There is a village nearby. Go and get me a drink.” The man goes into the village and knocks at the door of the first house. A beautiful young woman opens the door. His jaw drops, but he manages to say, “I need a glass of cool water.” “Of course,” she says, smiling, “but it is midday. Would you care to stay for some food?” “I am hungry,” he says, looking over his shoulder. “And your offer of food is a great kindness.” He goes in and the door closes behind him.

Thirty years go by. The man who wanted to know what the world was like and the woman who offered him food have married and have raised five children. He is a respected merchant and she is an honored member of the community. One day a terrible storm comes in off the ocean and threatens their life. The merchant cries out, “Help me, God.” A voice from the midst of the storm says, “Where is my cup of cold water?”

Spiritual traditions warn us about becoming lost in the world. The demands of everyday life are merciless. There is always more to do and not enough time to do it. At times this constant activity may be boring; at other times it may be exciting. But from the point of view of the story it speaks of a lack of attention to the demands of God.

What is the world like? The answer of the story is that it is a place of forgetfulness. We do not stay attentive to the spiritual dimension of our life. We spend our lives busy and preoccupied with worldly demands that take all our time and, more importantly, take all our mind. When this happens, we find ourselves lacking passion, purpose, and pleasure. As one perplexed person put it, “How can I be so busy and yet so empty?”

This dominance of everyday activity is particularly true in the Advent and Christmas season. Busy people become busier. They have to prepare for the season, which often means more shopping and more work. Unfortunately, this frantic preparation often puts people to sleep spiritually. People begin to long not for the birth of the Christ Child, but for the lazy, doldrums days of January. The rush of the season works against the message of the season. As we enter the Season of Advent, let's set aside time to provide “a cup of cold water for God.”
