WAITING IN JOYFUL HOPE

We are so impatient with God’s timing, so often convinced we know better than God. More than impatient, we are deeply attached to and invested in the seconds, moments and days that bring us happiness and frustration, with preferences for one and not the other. Detachment is the spiritual work of remembering what Peter tells us, “that with the Lord, one day is like a thousand years and a thousand years is like one day.” God has promised us love and constant presence. He is with us in all things. When we feel the frustrations, the joys, the disappointments, the graces, and the losses of life, we can attach ourselves deeply to Jesus, and lovingly detach or release our death grip on everything else. When we practice letting go of all the ups and downs, the valleys get filled in and the hills made smooth. This way, while we wait, we can “be found by Him at peace.”

Hope is to believe in the promise of God and believing that God has the power to fulfill that promise. A young girl can say yes to the “impossible” and gives birth to a son who will profoundly change the world. Mary, Jesus’ mother, shows us how to have complete hope and trust in God. Not only did she believe the promise, but she surrendered completely to God’s will. “Let it be, according to your word.” (Luke 1:38) Advent is a time of hope and trust that God continues to do remarkable things, here and now, in this time, in this place, at this present moment. Advent is once again upon us. Once again we are given the opportunity to start anew. Once again we are given the chance to re-create ourselves. Advent is a time to get in touch with our longings and deepest desires. It is a time to give new birth to the soul as we wait in hope and prepare to celebrate the reality of Christ's presence among us. There is something special about “waiting”. There is a certain expectancy for change, for new birth, a new growth, a new beginning. This “waiting” can be exciting but also draining. It can be a time of anticipation and joy but also a challenge and very stressful. It is, however, in the labor of waiting that we experience new opportunities and new life and growth. It is difficult to believe that the disarray of our lives can become a place where new life happens and yet this is exactly where God meets us. If we know who we are, “a child of God”, we understand that nothing is impossible for God.

I am reminded of the story of the Little Wave in “Tuesdays With Morrie” by Mitch Albom. The story is about a little wave, bobbing along in the ocean, having a grand old time. He's enjoying the wind and the fresh air - until he notices the other waves in front of him, crashing against the shore. "My God, this is terrible", the wave says. "Look what's going to happen to me!" Then along comes another wave. It sees the first wave, looking grim, and it says to him: "Why do you look so sad?" The first wave says: "You don't understand! We're all going to crash! All of us waves are going to be nothing! Isn't it terrible?" The second wave says: "No, you don't understand. You're not a wave, you're part of the ocean." We are part of that great ocean called Love.
