The Ordering of Time

Teach me
Your ways,
O Lord...

The Gospel of Luke today is at the beginning of Christ's public ministry. He reads the Prophet Isaiah to his fellow townspeople and then tells them that the Scripture is fulfilled there, in their midst. We know that through the ministry of Jesus lots of people followed Him. We also know that lots of people did not follow Him because they did not want to accept His complete teachings.

This is the same today. The challenge of this Sunday is this: will we follow Christ in His Church or will we go our own way? We cannot claim to be following Christ if we do not accept what He teaches. Jesus tells us: come, follow me. Let us walk with Him and in Him find our peace.

A point worth pondering on is: does our behaviour at home, at work or among our friends indicate that the spirit of the Lord is guiding our lives?

This is the second weekend of Ordinary Time as the Christmas Season concluded on January 13th with the celebration of Christ's Baptism and the Wedding Feast in Cana marked the first weekend in Ordinary Time.

This period is called Ordinary Time not because it is considered common but simply because the weeks of Ordinary Time are numbered. The Latin word ordinalis, which refers to numbers in a series, stems from the Latin word ordo, from which we get the English word order. Thus, the numbered weeks of Ordinary Time, in fact, represent the ordered life of the Church—the period in which we live our lives neither in feasting (as in the Christmas and Easter seasons) or in more severe penance (as in Advent and Lent), but in watchfulness and expectation of the Second Coming of Christ.

It's appropriate, therefore, that the Gospel for the Second Sunday of Ordinary Time (which is actually the first Sunday celebrated in Ordinary Time) always features either John the Baptist's acknowledgment of Christ as the Lamb of God or Christ's first miracle—the transformation of water into wine at the wedding at Cana.

Thus for Catholics, Ordinary Time is the part of the year in which Christ, the Lamb of God, walks among us and transforms our lives. There's nothing "ordinary" about that! The liturgical colour of Ordinary Time that you see the priest wearing and featured on the banners and elsewhere in the church is green which represents hope--like the hope we feel when we see the first buds in springtime--and it is thus fitting that green is the liturgical color that marks this season. The color also brings to mind the lush grasses and summer crops that sustain animals and people throughout the year. This leads naturally to seeing green as a sign of hope and life.

The Gospels are laid out so that we read through, in each of the three years, Mark(A), Matthew(B) and Luke's(C) gospels, one after another, taking us through the life of our Lord, as presented by the three gospels. Presently we are in year C reading through Luke's gospel.

The First Reading is carefully chosen from the Hebrew Scriptures (the Old Testament) so that important passages are chosen to bring out a connection with the Sunday gospels. Sometimes, when we are preparing for Mass, it is helpful to read the Gospel reading first so that we can appreciate why the First Reading was chosen. Then, when we read the Gospel a second time, the connection helps us.

The Second Reading is taken from the letters of the Apostles Paul and James. These readings are arranged so that we can get a good sense of these important messages, but the readings are not linked to the Gospel.
