SEASON OF CREATION

September has been set aside as the “Season of Creation” (Sept 1 – Oct 4) - a time of prayer, reflection and action on climate change. The suggested theme for this year is “the web of life: biodiversity as God’s blessing.” This helps us to meditate on two essential facts about creation: it comes from God, and we play a part in it. (Genesis 9:12-13)

In his message for the World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation, Pope Francis calls the Season of Creation a season for praying, adopting simpler lifestyles and undertaking prophetic actions. The Pope emphasizes “we have caused a climate emergency that gravely threatens nature and life itself, including our own” and urges us to “choose life.”

Climate Change is one of the important moral and social justice challenges of our time. Why?

Creation is a holy gift from God. The world is a holy gift, but it is not ours. It is “our common home” as Pope Francis calls it but, it belongs to God. It is only ours “to till and keep” (Genesis). The consequences of climate change are growing.

The poor are disproportionately affected by climate change. Not all humans or countries are equally responsible for climate change. Those in poorer countries, the most Vulnerable who have contributed the least to this crisis are more severely impacted by the effects of climate change and they have the least capacity to adapt.

We have a responsibility to future generations. We have a responsibility and sacred trust to care for the earth and all the diversity that God created. Are we robbing the future generations by not doing more to honour this sacred trust? What will our children and grandchildren say about our actions or inaction?

We need to reflect on how we want to spend our time here on Earth. What really matters? What will future generations say about the environmental legacy we leave for them. It is up to us but we also need political will.

Catholic Charities has prepared a Guide to Catholic Social Teaching and the Federal Election that reflects on 7 key issues that will have an impact on creating the type of just society we hope to build. Caring for the Environment is one of the issues.

Today’s gospel, which is a collection of three parables about the Lost Sheep, the Lost Coin and the Lost Son, provides us with material for reflection. The emphasis is on a gracious God who is so much in love with us that he seeks out the lost and forgotten. Lostness in one form or another is a state of mind and an uneasy feeling that we all share. Parents feel at a loss while bringing up a family in a world that is so different to that of their own childhood. There is the lostness of young people who are part of a youth culture that promises so much happiness and excitement but fails to deliver. There is the lostness of the senior citizen sidelined in a society that no longer sees value in old age. There is the lostness of the poor who are on the margins in a wealthy global economy. There is the personal anxiety that we may have slipped off God’s radar screen and are lost.

What is emphasised in the Lost Son is the intensity and joy in the heart of God at the return of a single soul that has been separated from him. Each of us is important, and each of us counts. In his home, there is room for all.
