Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity

You may want to read through the first reading in a coffee house surrounded by hipsters and expensive lattes, listening to a band you've never heard before. Oh, the days before COVID. But, why the ambience? Because this first reading is poetry worthy of a divine open mic night. It is poetry authored from the very mystery of the Holy Trinity. Before anything else was, the Trinity is. The Holy Trinity is the source of everything – all of creation, as well as truth, beauty, and love.

In fact, the Holy Trinity is love's source, destination, and power. Within God's self, the Trinity is an eternal relationship and exchange of love. Though Christ is grieved in the Gospel as He approaches His Passion, He must have also felt great joy knowing that He was about to bring the apostles into this Trinitarian relationship. Through Christ, we are also brought into this relationship of love. We are brought into love that existed before the universe was created, and a truth that guides us in our faith.

In the Gospel we hear the final teaching of Jesus and how this Trinitarian relationship can guide us, if we but simply ask.

“Jesus promises to send us the Holy Spirit. The Spirit is the fuel of the Church, the energy and life force of the Body of Christ. And we can’t get him through heroic effort. We can only get him by asking for him. That’s why for the past two thousand years, the Church has begged for the Holy Spirit, this power from on high.

Jesus told us that the Father would never refuse someone who asked for the Holy Spirit. So, ask, and ask again! The one prayer that is always appropriate, whether one is experiencing success or failure, whether one is confident or afraid, whether one is young or old, is ‘Come, Holy Spirit!’

This is the fundamental prayer of the Church. It’s why we pray it, as the first Apostles did, in the presence of Mary and with her support, for in the Hail Mary, we say, ‘Pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death.’ What are we asking her to pray for but the Holy Spirit?” (Bishop Robert Barron)

Every time you make the “sign of the cross,” remember that it is a prayer. Reflect on who each person of the Trinity is. Don’t speed through the prayer, but rather, go slowly. Each person of the Trinity deserves your attention and remembrance.

-Alan Lee Hoy

Today’s Feast of the Most Holy Trinity brings us to the foundation of our faith as it calls us to reflect on the life of God. Even though we cannot fully understand it, the Trinity gives us a wonderful insight into, and provides us with an opportunity to reflect on, the inner life of God. The beauty and majesty of the world around us bear the hallmark of God’s creative hand. However, it does not capture the whole picture, because God is a mystery, which means there is always more to discover, more to share and experience about him. He is greater than our human attempts to understand, above and beyond our thoughts and capacity to define. We are left with the truth that God is always greater than our words can express.
